

Around the Square

By Tommy-Ann Miller

What nonsense to have Nursery School children and other primary graders wear caps and gowns (and receive diplomas) for "graduation." Commencement formalities will mean nothing when they finally DO graduate from high school, etc. But then, this is typical of the "Push-'Em-Through-Childhood" philosophy rampant these days (such as adult-patterned grammar school dances, infant "dating," etc.)

Why not let children be children for the precious little time they're allowed?

TEA TATTING. Due to a column goof (premature reporting)—the surprise tea for Helen Loomis (outgoing Friends of the Library President)—wasn't a surprise. Tea-givers Florence Peterson, Katharine Sorenson, Nell D'Arby and May Wilt entertained a hoard of Helen's friends in the Friends group, who gathered in her honor Sunday afternoon.

GUITAR CENTER. Another new business opens tomorrow morning: The Guitar Center, 53 N. Baldwin (Dr. Herbert's old office). Owner? Bill Spargur Sr., who has lived in Sierra Madre most of his life, and has been playing guitar for just about as long (he's studied with Eleana Paz, Clark Allen and Guy Horne).

Bill says he'll be selling guitars of all types—including folk, Flamenco and classical—in addition to supplies, guitar and folk music records, sheet music, song books, etc. Both individual and group lessons will be offered (special emphasis on groups), with such teachers as Paz, Allen, etc.

Since Bill, a special insurance agent, plans to keep the Center open until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, his wife, Cynthia, will probably sleep him occasionally. The Spargurs and four children live up on Adams St.

IT IS, INDEED, comforting to know that there is a dentist in town who can scale to the top of a 50-foot sycamore tree for bit of aerial reconnaissance.

FISH FIRST. Although it was Jane Buchanan's first deep sea fishing trip, she managed to win Saturday's pool with a 24-pound yellowtail. She and John accompanied the Frank Loza family to Ensenada on the weekend (the Lozas fish there frequently). Sr. Loza took Sunday's prize with a 30-pound yellowtail.

COUSIN CRUISES. It was down to the harbor Sunday for Owen and Ruby Edwards and the David Darbshire family—when they bon voyage Ruby's cousin (whom she hadn't seen in 30 years) and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Saunders of Australia. The Saunders, on a six-month round-the-world cruise, are now bound for the Olympics in Rome.

NOT ONLY did Bob and Ann Forney lose their perky green Plymouth (to some knavish autorobber), but the next day they lost their friends and next-door neighbors, Warren and Marian ("Legs") White, who moved to Anaheim Monday.

The Whites and son, Stuart, have lived in the oak-shaded homestead at 289 E. Grand View for the past seven years (another son, George, lives with his family on N. Mountain Trail). The White home reportedly has been sold to a New Zealand physician with five children.

DID SOMETHING die in the City water supply last week? No—it was only the changing of the wells due to some repair work—and despite the odor, the water was considered drinkable.

A sampling of public opinion on what the water (ugh!) smelled and/or tasted like:

- 1—Rotten gardenias.
- 2—Wine.
- 3—A dead rat.
- 4—Paint.
- 5—Moldy ham.
- 6—Old gym socks.

Sanctuary Architect Engaged

Another step in the planning of a new church sanctuary, to be erected on the intersection of Hastings Ranch Dr. and N. Sierra Madre Blvd., has been taken by members of Faith Lutheran Church in the resolution to engage Architect Culver Heaton of Pasadena to begin plot-planning and preliminary drawings.

The congregation's Building Committee will meet with Mr. Heaton next Wednesday evening to initiate this step. Members of this committee are the Messrs. Kenneth Bock, chairman; Edgar Plischke, Neal Ludwig, Kenneth Euker and Freeman Robbins. Other committee members will be announced as planning progresses.

IN CONTINUING the pastoral messages on the Book of Joshua, next Sunday morning at 8 and 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. Armin Hess will speak on "When the Lord Performs Wonders." In announcing this topic, the minister stated:

"On Independence Day we have reason to be mindful of the great wonders which the Lord has performed for our nation during its past history. The international situation certainly calls for the need of more such wonders today. Can we expect them from the Lord's mercy? The key lies in following the advice given by Joshua to the Israelites: 'Sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you.'

Forest Areas Restricted

The public faces restricted entry into the Angeles National Forest during the Fourth of July holiday.

Entry into the high fire hazard areas will be restricted starting this Friday, according to Sim E. Jarvi, forest supervisor of Pasadena.

Main areas affected include San Antonio, Big and Little Dalton, San Gabriel,

Big and Little Santa Anita, Eaton, Arroyo Seco, Big and Little Tujunga, and Lopez Canyon, except for important highways and portions of trails, cabin sites and recreation areas.

Jarvi emphasized that closures are absolutely necessary for fire prevention, public safety and protection of the watersheds because of critical fire danger, and will remain in effect until fall rains reduce the hazard.

July 4th Hours

The Sierra Madre Post Office will be inactive the entire day on Monday, July 4.

The Post Office room will be open for box holders. There will be no outgoing mail at 5 p.m.

Cruising 27,000 feet up, the temperature outside was 22 degrees below zero. Inside, because of the temperature equalizer, it was perfectly comfortable all the way.

DURING their stay in the Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman were privileged to gain unusual insight into Hawaii and its customs. For instance they visited Kawaihao, the oldest Honolulu church where the purest of present-day Hawaiian is spoken.

This church is made of coral blocks which were "mined" in Honolulu Bay and then carted by hand by the parishioners to the church site some half-mile inland.

The pulpit inside the church is unusually high and the pastor, before ascending to conduct the service, steps out of his shoes—the pulpit is sacred ground and not to be profaned by people's shoes.

Mr. AND MRS. HARTMAN

viewed the Kamehameha parade in Honolulu, an annual event of genuine significance honoring the 7 foot, 1 inch former king of Hawaii who welded the various Hawaiian islands and their kings into one nation, with himself as ruler. His spear in a Honolulu museum was 22 feet long and so heavy only a powerful man such as Kamehameha could lift it. He was known as the "George Washington" of Hawaii."

I noticed one particular thing during the parade," remarked Mr. Hartman. "When 'The Colors' trooped by, every person, large or small, promptly stood at attention and in deep silence saluted the American flag. The people of this new state are certainly good Americans."

On the return trip, their Pan American jet, aided by a 100-mile tailwind, covered the 2,400 miles in four hours, 37 minutes. The record is four hours, 15 minutes.

Mr. Hartman who spent the first week attending the National Pharmaceutical Association Convention in Honolulu, encountered a druggist from Hilo, devastated by

Search, Rescue Team Honored By County

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team and three other similar organizations were signally honored Tuesday when Supervisor Warren M. Dorn of Pasadena, representing the County Board of Supervisors, presented scrolls praising these units of the Sheriff's Department which have rescued hundreds of hikers and motorists from treacherous areas of the San Gabriel Mountains in the past ten years.

Supervisor Dorn made the presentation to Lieutenant Fred La Lone, representing the Sierra Madre group, in the Hall of Records, Los Angeles. The other teams receiving presentations were the Altadena Mountaineers, Montrose Mountaineers and the Antelope Valley Sheriff's Posse.

Altogether, these four groups are credited with having rescued more than 1,000 persons who were injured, stranded or lost in the mountain fastnesses.

Accepting the awards for the other organizations were Lieutenant Vance R. Yost, leader of the Altadena Mountaineers; Captain Frank G. Smith, leader of the Montrose Mountaineers, and Captain Jack S. Jones, leader of the Antelope Valley Sheriff's Posse.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Murray Hawkins of 610 N. Auburn, the former Sierra Madre city treasurer, just returned from a four-month sojourn in Europe, traveled in 22 countries, covering more than 30,000 miles, and visited 72 different places.

After a brief stay in England during February, an outstanding disagreeable month there, they went to the Continent, visiting Italy and Spain.

Formalities, they embarked on an 18-day cruise touching in Greece, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Rhodes and other Middle Eastern lands. Other spots visited included France, Germany and Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Root, leaders of the Antelope Valley Sheriff's Posse.

It's fortunate that we don't go all to pieces when we are told sharply that most of us don't know how to eat—or what. Ted Patrick and Silas Spitzer are two "eating experts," who report in Holiday Magazine, there is a handful of good restaurants, but the majority should be plowed under.

What we say is that they have a right to their opinion, but that is all we will say. Personally, we think a pickled beet and onion sandwich is outstanding food. Also we like to eat juicy tomatoes while standing over the sink to keep from dripping all over everything.

I have a young friend who thinks that peanut butter on celery is absolutely the best food.

A husband we know likes fried eggs on syrupy waffles. We love squash and okra, bread and butter, and cookies, any kind of cookies. And we agree that most restaurants don't offer our favorites on the menu, but Ted and Silas weren't talking about those things. They were talking about "continental" food, and wines of "good" years.

And the only answer we have to that is—"just give us a chance to sample all them continental dishes and them wines, at all them fancy restaurants, and we'll get up the doggdest list of restaurants that Ted and Silas ever laid their eyes on."

On expense account, of course.

A BUFFET luncheon beside her swimming pool for the neighbors would have been on the Ted and Silas list if they had been invited to Louise Vincent's Canfield

Rd. home the other day. Louise whipped up a beautiful array of good things for lunch after everybody had been enjoying swimming and bridge and much conversation. About 20 ambled in during the morning in bathing suits or shorts.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL Church was bulging last Saturday night when Lynne Voges and Dick Eggers were married. It was fun to see all the younger set "pressed and polished" craning their little necks to see WHAT would be happening to them a comparatively few years hence. Mary and Barney Melone made the trip over from Hollywood. They have just recently returned from a fun trip through the Caribbean. Saturday Mary and their oldest daughter, Gene, will be sailing for three weeks in Hawaii. Kathy decided she'd rather go to San Diego getting in some time on his Navy Reserve training. He must have had his snoot to the grindstone because he came out with the rank of petty officer.

THE NEIGHBORS were sorry to hear LaRetta and Paul Adams had sold their house and would be leaving the Ranch for an apartment the first of August. They'll both be missed.

ON THE good side of the ledger, the Don Haywards have returned to the Ranch and are now living on Valley Lights. They left our neighborhood two years ago for Birmingham, Mich., and it's nice to have them back again.

HAZEL GITTERING is "living it up" this week. Her nephew, Tom Schmid, who spent so much time with her while he was attending the Army-Navy Academy in Carlisle, is having a visit with her. Tom has been living in Idaho Falls where his father, a doctor, is stationed with the Navy. Tom has spent the past two weeks in San Diego getting in some time on his Navy Reserve training. He must have had his snoot to the grindstone because he came out with the rank of petty officer.

SINCE THIS column has always tried to pass on "household hints," it seems only fair to bring to the attention of those poor souls trying to lose a pound or two, the new cottage cheese out that says it is "whipped." The name is beside the point but it looks and almost tastes like sour cream and doesn't begin to pack the calories.

There is something about this time of year—4th of July time, I mean—when I get an uncontrollable desire to start producing potato salad. This is how not to keep your girlish figure.

I just don't know what I'm going to do this year to get around this problem. I have been having a battle with myself for months, I tell my doctor that I am like a tree orchid. I don't eat a thing, I am just surviving on the atmosphere.

He looks at me in a kindly, sympathetic way and tells me that some people don't need to eat at all to gain weight and that it is obvious that I am one of those poor unfortunate persons who will have to give it up.

I somehow get the feeling that he knows something I don't. Well, back to my dewdrops . . .

MR. BRUCE "Doc" Turnbull received a surprise that should last him for a long time last Saturday. He dropped in on his in-laws, the Edward R. Halperins, to leave the baby, and lo and behold, ran into a party like he had never seen before, and for his birthday anniversary.

His wife had arranged for his mother, Mrs. Ray Turnbull of San Francisco, to come directly there. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hughes and their son were also there from San Diego.

The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Youngson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rodolfo, Mr. and Mrs. Len Evers, Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Paschall, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sanger and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cullen.

In addition to the swimming, the guests enjoyed dancing on the lovely lanai surrounding the pool area. A buffet supper was served in the evening.

GAYLE GARDNER met with mixed emotion last Saturday evening as she was feted at a surprise farewell party given at the Sierra Madre Villa residence of the R. L. Sinks, and by their daughter Sherry.

Gayle was presented with farewell gifts by the group, and they all thoroughly enjoyed the swimming, dancing, games, and bar-b-que dinner that made the evening pass before anyone had a chance to be too sad.

The guests were Ann and Berty Fricke, Cindy Calopedia, Anita Barkelewy, Leslie Lockard, Donnie Webster, Linda Blazer, Arlene Barker, Deanna Vaniman, Moryg Yolum, Jack Curtiss, Al Lammons, Bill Rittenhouse, Steve Chapman, Steve Saurenman, Forrest Switzer, Roy DiBlas, David Brearley, Craig Lockard, Tony White, Les Gillinghouse, Bruce Pittman and Steve Lightfoot.

SPEAKING of parties, Bob Gardner was not left behind the fence Saturday night. He invited some 30-odd fellow sophomores up for a record and punch affair as a sort of "farewell" party. Mrs. G. says they'll never get packed and out of town if they don't quit celebrating.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH MANGAN returned home from Bakersfield last Sunday night. They accompanied 70 young men of the Striders team for the National Championship tryouts for the fall Olympics. Mr. Mangan is coach for the boys and believe me he goes all out for his men.

MR. AND MRS. ALEXANDER ARMSTRONG joined the Hamilton Styrns in La Jolla last weekend for a pre-mature birthday celebration and to see the horse show in which their niece was riding.

THIS SEEMED to be the weekend for surprises for the young people. Biff McComas, too, was on the receiving end of a wonderful surprise party perpetrated by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McComas, on the occasion of his 19th birthday anniversary. This is the first time in four years Biff has been home with his family to celebrate the event. There was swimming and dancing as well as a bar-b-que dinner to fill the evening hours.

Shop Talk You'll Like To Peruse

By Lisa Churchill

"Opening, Friday, June 24. Jo Whalen, relics, 35 East Montecito." That's what the ad said. Being a stranger in these here parts, I immediately displayed my ignorance by asking "What are relics?"

Jo Whalen waved her hand around the pale green airy studio and gave me the perfect answer—"Anything someone doesn't want but someone else might."

She was right. It's the browsiest spot in town. If you've got a rumpus room, she even got an upright piano for it. "And you can't hardly get that kind no more." If you haven't got a rumpus room, you could name it to your favorite Sunday School.

Of course, you may not be buying pianos this week, but drop in to see Jo Whalen anyway and get acquainted.

AS I WENT around Roberts Market with Manager Deane Damon, I could hardly get by the red, juicy watermelons stacked and ready for a perfect ending to a glorious Fourth.

Back in Massachusetts we always started our Fourth of July with fresh salmon, and sweet new peas straight from the garden. The peas had to be planted on the 19th of April to be ripe for the big Fourth of July spread. Why the 19th of April?

"On the 19th of April in '75, there's hardly a man who's now alive, who remembers the midnight ride of Paul Revere."

Massachusetts folks still take the 19th of April pretty seriously. It's a full fledged "Holl-a-day." Flags fly, and marathon runners run 20 miles to celebrate the famous ride from Boston Town to Concord.

Of course, during the 20 years of my childhood memory the race was won every year by Clarence De Mar, who was still winning at the age of 57.

So, since the race was practically a certainty, and the golf courses not yet conditioned for the spring season, everybody planted peas. Probably because it was the only vegetable you could plant so early.

All the husbands and fathers bundled up in sweaters and, since it was undoubtedly raining, in rubber boots and soxeters, but the peas got planted.

WHEN THE FOURTH rolled around, nothing tasted so good as those tiny green globules straight from the vines, shelled on the back porch under the honeysuckle bush, popped into boiling water, and rushed to the table heaped with great gobs of melting butter.

If you're a furrier and weren't born in Massachusetts, you may not have planted your peas on the 19th of April—but Birdseye did it for you, and Mr. Damon has a goodly supply all ready and waiting at the frozen food counter.

If you want to be original and have steaks instead of salmon, he has those, too. Happy Fourth of July eating to you all.

IF YOU ARE one of the cocktail before dinner crowd, or enjoy a good domestic wine to celebrate Independence Day (of course, there are imported ones, too), visit Happy's Liquor Store at 12 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and let Happy make you happy with some of his voluminous and interesting stock.

The Fourth of July is a good weekend to stay home and experiment with something new in the food and drink line—you might even dig out that cocktail shaker Cousin Clara gave you for Christmas ten years ago—Happy can provide the fillin'.

MAKE THIS Fourth a safe Fourth—See you next week.

City Band Plays Again on Friday

The next concert by the Sierra Madre Concert Band at Memorial Park will be Friday, July 8, the program opening at 7:15 p.m.

The band opened its eighth summer season last Friday night, more than 200 welcoming the new director, Ross Davis. During the intermission, the Sierra Madre School Band, with James Weber directing, played several numbers.

Noted Flamenco Guitarist To Play in Sierra Madre

Clark Allen, noted Flamenco guitarist, will appear in Sierra Madre on Tuesday, July 19, at 8:15 p.m. at The Guitar Center, 53 N. Baldwin.

Mr. Allen will discuss and play various Flamenco rhythms and songs in a two and one-half hour program. The program is designed for both the aficionado of Flamenco, and those who simply enjoy good music.

Mr. Allen brings into this program a vast knowledge and understanding of the music of Spain. Each year he travels to Spain in search of new material and to perfect his repertoire.

While in Spain he lived with the "Flamencos" in the caves at Scaromonte in order to attain a better understanding of the Spanish gypsy music.

AFTER LIVING in Spain for three years he began appearing on the West Coast. Allen recently completed a nationwide tour with Bettie Davis and Gary Merrill in the "World of Carl Sandberg."

A series of entertainment "firsts" will be presented in Sierra Madre by The Guitar Center. According to owner Bill Spurgar, programs featuring folk, Flamenco and classical and blues guitarists will be scheduled for summer and fall.

Tickets may be obtained by phoning The Guitar Center at EL 6-1164.

Falcon Sales Up In Early June

The Ford Falcon passed two impressive milestones during the first ten days of June as sales of the compact car leader climbed to an all-time high for the initial selling period of a month.

The Ford Division announced Falcon sales averaged more than 1,680 each selling day during the first ten days of the month, highest first period sales achieved by any compact car since the introduction of 1960 models.

Corresponding records were set in the Los Angeles district. Average selling day totals were 131 during the ten-day period, a 9.2 per cent increase over the first ten days of May, according to Brien Medler, assistant Los Angeles district sales manager for Ford Division.

Council Meeting

ular meeting approving proposed Carter subdivision along Chapparal Rd. This was at the subdivider's request pending study of the water situation there.

4-Turned down application of Arcadia Investment Co. for approval of the company's Hersey tract. Robert Michaels, company president, argued long for approval, but the status of the debris basin dam constructed by the company remains a moot point. Council will await return of City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington from vacation to determine his present views.

THE VITAL question of water to presently undeveloped areas was referred to Bevington, as city engineer, for a complete study and recommendations as to methods and costs, especially the possibility of leasing added water from Arcadia.

Family Fiesta Is Attended By 12,000

Twelve thousand persons, grownups and juveniles, from all over the Southland, enjoyed the picnic atmosphere at the annual Family Fiesta at picturesque Mater Dolorosa Retreat House and Monastery at 700 N. Sunnyside, Sierra Madre, Sunday.

The Rev. Faustinus Moran, C.P., assistant to the director, the Rev. Isidore O'Reilly, C.P., reported that 6,200 of the appetizing beef barbecue meals were served to the hungry picnickers. Father Faustinus complimented the Sierra Madre Police and Fire Departments for the excellent way in which they assisted in handling the crowds.

Father Isidore, known to thousands during his 12-year ministry at the Retreat House and Monastery, is ill and was unable to take part in the fiesta. Father Faustinus said.

IT IS the one day of the year in which the consecrated grounds are open to the general public for casual visitation. On the more serious side, more than 73,000 men have made retreats there since 1932. Average attendance since 1959 has been some 5,000 men and boys each year. Six mid-week retreats and as many as eight retreats for Catholic high school students also are given.

Conducted by the Passionist Fathers, an order founded by St. Paul of the Cross in Italy in 1720, the retreat center was started in 1923 when the Passionists were invited here by the late Archbishop John J. Cantwell.

THEY ACQUIRED 80 acres of property, part of the old Wilson Ranch, at the foot of Mt. Wilson. The first Mass was said in the old ranch house on July 24, 1924. Outdoor retreats were started the following year, but discontinued for lack of facilities.

When the monastery was completed in 1932, the Mater Dolorosa Retreat League was revived. There were 30 private rooms for retreatants as the movement grew many men were turned away each weekend.

'What Matters Death if Freedom Be Not Dead?'

"What matters death if freedom be not dead?
No flags are fair if freedom's flags be furled."

From Joyce Kilmer's last poem, "The Peacemaker," written June 14, 1918.

We live today in the midst of the most competitive economic world in history. It is competition in the new framework of the ideology of Communism and the ideal of Freedom—it is the competition of the ideation of both.

Ideas put forth into practicability by a people who are not afraid of change within principles, put down in Christ-like fashion, will bring them victory in the world struggle of strong economy blocs.

We make a serious mistake in imagining that Soviet Russia is bumbling, ineffective, backward and devoid of ideas. Rather, it is a dynamic, modern industrial state teaming with new concepts, and its vigorous, healthy, industrious citizens, steeped in the techniques of Lenin, have been told since their youth that their ideas will insure the victory for Communists in the world struggle.

Those Americans who 184 years signed the Declaration of Independence were not afraid of change—in fact, they created it. They were not fearful about change; neither should we be. They took their stand; they welcomed change and left the rest to God. Shall we not do likewise?

SET IN the rotunda of the picturesque, stately, yet so simple in its lines, Jefferson Memorial, located along Washington's attractive Tidal Basin and inscribed on the facade above the figure of the tall, red-haired Virginia philosopher of freedom, is the following:

"I am not an advocate for frequent change in laws and constitutions. But laws and institutions must go hand-in-hand with the progress of the human mind. As that becomes more developed, more enlightened, as new discoveries are made, new truths discovered and manners and opinions change, we must advance also with the times. We might as well require a man to wear still the coat which fitted him when a boy as civilized society to remain ever under the regime of their barbarous ancestors."

Jefferson's sage words and wise counsel are a charter for Americans of these days and indeed for the oppressed peoples of a strife-worn world. They make clear, and our statesmen should take heed, that this world and its peoples cannot remain static, and that changes looking forward toward freedom for all peoples are inevitable.

Whether these changes can be born without further war, without nuclear destruction, or if they must await an awesome and disastrous travail in the future, is largely up to the statesmen of the world whether they be in Washington, Moscow, London, Pekin, Bonn or Paris.

THIS IDEA of constant and dynamic change need not be confined solely to the Communist world. We of America possess it inherently—it is our rightful heritage. All we need to do is to use it wisely, daringly and intelligently without fear or trepidation.

On this July 4th we need to remind ourselves that the Declaration of Independence still expresses the deathless faith and shining hope of free men everywhere. We need to remember that freedom must be constantly earned by us from day to day, month to month, year to year. There is nothing static about freedom—it is above all things dynamic and responsive, most of all, to intelligent—and daring—change. Otherwise it perishes.

Freedom is in jeopardy in every day that dawns. Careless and foolish people, complacent about it, undermine it more rapidly and surely than dictators and tyrants. The weak and the cowardly, more concerned with security than with the freedom that exacts the price of sacrifice, endanger us more than aggressors.

Throughout our national history, the American people have confronted the exhaustive crises of many emergencies, of war and civil strife and natural disaster, but our greatest moments of despair have been occasioned, not by our dangers, but by our own moral and patriotic timidity.

Freedom blesses only the lives of a people who meet their obligations with decency, dignity and daring, and these are times when America needs dare.

THAT LITTLE handful of Americans, meeting in Philadelphia in 1776, laid down certain claims and espoused certain principles as timely and valid now as then. They lit a torch which by God's grace, never will be extinguished if we will do and dare—as they did.

They asserted not only that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, but also that all men are endowed with certain inalienable rights, including those of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

In the triumph of those rights they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

Can we of today do less?

Can we dare less?

Men! Phone Frank Parks

Wanted—A lot of men to become politically-minded and to engage energetically in Republican Party activities in Sierra Madre.

Frank R. Parks, president of the Sierra Madre Republicans, comments that, for the most part, women are taking the lead—carrying the load—in promoting the Republican cause in Sierra Madre.

Make no mistake about it, President Parks is all for woman participation in Republican activities and he's mighty glad to have the gals around, for thus far they are his strong right arm in getting the job done. But likewise, he would appreciate a wider and more active interest and

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

What fools we mortals be!
San Francisco feels humiliated, insulted and inclined to secede from the Union because the preliminary census figures show it has lost 60,000 residents.

Of course it has merely lost them to its suburbs, which have gained enormously, and the sensible thing for San Francisco to do would be to thank heaven 60,000 fewer persons were competing for their breathing space.

But the great American weakness is to yearn for what is bigger and better even when that means bigger and worse. That addiction is so strong in us that at any moment we may see mobs demanding that the census chief be drawn and quartered, for all over the nation there is bitterness about census figures.

CHICAGO was so crushed by an announcement that Greater Los Angeles now exceeds Greater Chicago that it immediately claimed two populous counties in Indiana as rightfully its own.

New York is grieving in fear that if the trend to the suburbs continues its downtown areas soon may be the only places where one can go to get away from it all on a weekend. One can even imagine family picnics in Wall Street on weekends.

The East had better give up the hopeless struggle and make the best of the benefits of shrinking populations. The West has nearly all the room for growth. When I wrote "Los Angeles Book" in 1950 I learned that, in acreage, the entire City of Chicago could be placed in the San Fernando Valley

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

41 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, July 4, 1919—Mrs. G. D. Johnstone, of Sierra Madre Canyon, left for a month's stay at Long Beach on Wednesday.

W. L. Manchester left for Bar Harbor, Maine, Wednesday, to visit his father and to try to induce him to make Sierra Madre his home.

W. A. Evans and son Joe returned from Big Bear Lake Tuesday after a week's fishing. W. A. is the expert fisherman, but Joe claims to have put it all over him this trip.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, July 5, 1940—Enthusiased over the excellent condition of the City Park tennis courts since they were resurfaced, the Sierra Madre Tennis Club has reorganized and entered upon a campaign to interest every local player in the organization so that an interesting series of tournaments may be held between local players and visiting teams from San Gabriel Valley cities. Just now a committee consisting of C. G. Huntsinger and Robert Holmes, Los Angeles County playground supervisor, is organizing a women's group and a junior section for boys and girls. John Senour is new president of the club; Douglas Williams is secretary-treasurer, and Homer Tuttle will arrange and supervise tournaments.

Congregational Services at 10 a.m. During Summer

Effective this Sunday, July 3, morning worship at the Congregational Church will be at 10 o'clock only.

Church school will meet at the same hour, with children from the first grade and above attending church with their families for the first part of the hour, then being excused to go to their classrooms. Younger children will go directly to their classes. This schedule will prevail through the first Sunday in September.

Other schedule changes include Pilgrim Fellowship Tuesday evening instead of Sunday evening; Pioneer Fellowship Thursday evening instead of Sunday morning.

This Sunday, Rev. George W. Lindsay, church pastor, will preach on "In God We Trust," exploring the spiritual heritage and future of our nation.

Just phone Mr. Parks and tell him you're ready for a Republican Party assignment. He'll be real tickled.

Trinity Presbyterian Picks Rev. Drury V. Haight as Minister of Visitation

Trinity Presbyterian Church is pleased to announce the coming of the Rev. Drury V. Haight as minister of visitation July 1. The Rev. Mr. Haight, a resident of Monte Vista Grove Homes in Pasadena, is a native of Chicago. He came to California when quite young, becoming a member of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church. While there he was active in Christian Endeavor Union work, and from that church he entered into preparation for the Christian ministry.

(the former Edna Lowe) was for many years a Presbyterian missionary in Canton, China, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe, formerly of Carter Ave. in Sierra Madre.

The Rev. Mr. Haight is a man of many talents, not the least of which is an adeptness at water color portraiture. He will be responsible at Trinity for evangelistic calling in the community and will assist in the adult education program at the church.

Let us plan now, or when Los Angeles is the biggest city in America and San Diego is in hot pursuit of it as the fastest-growing, we may find ourselves gasping for breath like fish out of water.

PERSONAL: I have written 11 books but this week is the first time I've been able to read one. My help-spend has read all the others to me. But I have just received the Talking Book, or recorded edition, of "The Luckiest Man Alive," which the Library of Congress recently selected as one of the books it would have recorded for the use of the blind, and ordered one set sent to me.

I understand that the Library of Congress had 300 sets of the records made for distribution through libraries. In this area, the Braille Institute Library, 741 N. Vermont, Los Angeles, will lend the records free to persons who cannot read.

The Synod met last year in Oberlin, Ohio, for preliminary work on the constitution which will be submitted to the church for approval, after action by the General Synod.

The growing electronics industry will make its first appearance in Sierra Madre so far as its manufacturing field is concerned when Stewart B. McCulloch makes room at his ceramics plant, 89 E. Montecito Ave., for a new partner, Ray Rogers of Temple City, to create a new enterprise to be known as the Ray Rogers Manufacturing Company.

Gas Stations Targets for Coin Thieves

Thieves leveled on two of Sierra Madre's filling stations beverage machines last week, one successfully, the other futile.

At the Al Foxton filling station, Sierra Madre Blvd. and N. Auburn, they pried open the machine coin box, escaping with $2 in coins. A night previous they had stolen a book of stamps from the top of the cash counter when the attention of attendants was centered on serving patrons at the side of the station.

The beverage machine at the Shell station at E. Montecito and 54 N. Baldwin proved too tough for the marauders. Of a type that locks securely from the inside, they were unable to pry it open and had to be satisfied with a "dry haul."

$27,654 in Gas Taxes for City

Sierra Madre's share of the $32,090,631 in state gasoline taxes for the fiscal year ended June 30 and apportioned among California's 364 incorporated cities is $27,654.58, according to State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack.

Monrovia receives $74,717.44; Arcadia, $116,913.94; Pasadena, $365,556.56, and South Pasadena, $56,490.67.

Tennis Turney At City Park Won By Larry Morse

In the tennis tournament at City Park last weekend, Larry Morse won in the boys group 18 and under, with Ted Hilsen runner-up. In the boys group, 15 and under, Stanley Smith won, with Mike Erickson runner-up.

In the girls group, 15 and under, Marilyn Gregor took first spot, with Rosemary Wittig, runner-up.
